RENOWN WON BY CRIPPLES TALE IS HARDLY COMPLETE

Numerous Cases Where Infirmities Have Not Hindered the Climbing of the Ladder of Fame.

Many persons, crippled in early age, have, notwithstanding their infirmity made a name for themselves in the history of the world.

The notorious, or famous, according to the point of view, French statesman Talleyrand, the friend of Napoleon, and for a time French ambassador at the English court, was through an accident when one year old, rendered a cripple for life. His cunning, cleverness, political penetration, adroit intrigues and ingenious subterfuges were vehemently opposed by the emperor's wife, Josephine, who energetically denounced him as a "cursed cripple."

Both Lord Byron and Sir Walter Scott were lame.

Mrs. Browning, the distinguished English poetess, was of a delicate constitution, and never enjoyed robust health. Her sufferings were due to an accident which happened in her sixteenth year. She was one day trying to saddle her pony in a field when she fell with the saddle upon her, incurring an injury to the spine. The after effects were so serious that for years she had to recline on her back.

In every walk of life, crippled persons have won renown, and proved that their infirmity has by no means hindered their rise up the ladder of fame.

Stop Your Cough

When you first catch a Cold (often indicated by a sneeze or cough) break it up at once. The idea that "It does not matter" often leads to serious complications. The remedy which immediately and easily penetrates the lining of the throat is the kind demanded. Dr. King's New Discovery soothes the irritation, loosens the phlegm. You feel better at once. "It seemed to reach the very spot of my Cough" is one of many testimonials. 50¢ at your Druggist.—Advertisement.

Marking Tools With Acid.

The American Machinist recommends the following etching fluid for marking tools: Mix one part of muriatic acid, one of nitric and four parts of water. The tool is coated with wax and the design is then scratched in.

How To Give Quinine To Children.

FERRILINE is the trade-mark name given to an improved Quinine. It is a Tasteless Syrup, pleasant to take and does not disturb the stomach. Children take it and never know it is Quinine. Also especially adapted to adults who cannot take ordinary Quinine. Does not nauseate nor cause nervousness nor ringing in the head. Try it the next time you need Quinine for any purpose. Ask for 2-ounce original package. The name FERRILINE is blown in bottle. 25 cents.

Daily Thought.

However mean your life is meet it and live it; do not shun it and call it hard names.—Thoreau.

Reader Will Think It Should Have Included an Account of What the Fish Man Said.

There was a man walking through a mountainous region one day selling fish. As he went along he called: "Fish for sale! Fish for sale!"

Going through a valley he chanced to look up and on top of a very tall mountain which loomed into the sky he saw a tiny hut, and closer his eagle eye seemed to discern signs of life. Being an ambitious and painstaking fish man, he settled his hamper of fish more firmly on his back and slowly climbed up to the top of the mountain. When he reached the hut he knocked at the door and a man came out, and he said to the man: "Any fish today?"

The man took his pipe out of his mouth, and looking over the deal, replied: "No fish today."

The man went back down the mountain. When he had reached the bottom he happened to look up and he saw the same man in front of the hut beckon to him. Once more he settled his fish hamper on his back and once more slowly climbed up to the top of the mountain. When he got to within hearing, the man in front of the hut said to him:

"I don't want any fish today or tomorrow, either."

Cured by Suggestion.

Mental healing has long been practiced, but Doctor Berillon of Paris asserts that psychotherapy is the medicine of the future. He does not put his patients into an hypnotic trance, but places them in an environment which creates the appetite for sleep and invites them to repose on a bed and think of nothing. Then he leaves them. They gradually succumb to the tick-tack of a metronome.

When the patient is in a hypnotic slumber, if it is desired that he should be cured of excessive indulgence in alcohol, the psychotherapist suggests to him that he cannot raise a glass of absinthe to his lips, and repeats the suggestion until the prohibition is so engraved on his brain that if he would he could not do so.

Doctor Berillon is frequently consulted by those who wish to be cured of an unhappy love passion. Through hypnotism they obtain their release.

The Butterfly's Immunity.

"The general immunity of butterflies and day-flying moths from attack by insectivorous birds is as strikingly evident in India as it is in England or America, and seems a serious difficulty in the way of accepting the Batesian theory of mimicry. Not only do the birds of this district," writes an Indian correspondent of Nature, "pay no attention to the common butterflies, but the latter seem to despise the former. In contrast with this immunity, I have found that nocturnal moths if forced to take long flights during the daytime, are liable to attack, and in these circumstances stand a poor chance indeed of reaching a haven of refuge."

"It seems, then, that unfamiliar lepidoptera are much more liable to attack than the common everyday kind."

Beware of This Tree.

In the island of Grenada, British West Indies, there grows a most peculiar tree, the only one of its kind in the West Indies. Its leaves resemble those of the so-called sensitive plant, but whereas the sensitive plant is quite a small shrub, the angry tree grows to a height of about five or six feet.

As you approach the tree its leaves begin to shake and the whole tree shivers, but if you venture to touch it, so indignant will it become that it will bend until its branches touch the ground. At the same time it sends out a most obnoxious smell which forces one to retire. After a time the tree recovers and becomes quite placid.
